
JAPANESE JOURNAL OF MUSIC THERAPY

Vol.22 / No.1 2022

CONTENTS

■ Special Issue: Techniques for Capturing Changes in Clients - Methods of Observation and Analysis

Introduction to Special Issue	Makoto Iwanaga	3
Documentation and Evaluation in Nordoff-Robbins Music Therapy	Kana Okazaki-Sakaue	6
Utilization of Psychological Tests and Indexes in Music Therapy	Makoto Iwanaga	17
A Motion Analysis Method of Music Therapy Using Video Recordings of Participants	Izumi Morikawa	23
What Does "Narrative" Mean in Music Therapy?	Eri Watanabe	27
Trying KH Coder for Music Therapy Research	Hiroyuki Koga	34
Utilization of Grounded Theory in Music Therapy Research	Yumi Tahara	37
Utilization of Statistical Analysis and Software in Music Therapy Research	Makoto Iwanaga	42

■ Original Paper

Quantitative Video Analysis of Participant's Movement During Group Music Therapy for Elderly Participants with Dementia	Izumi Morikawa, Nobuko Otsubo, Akiyo Samizo	49
--	---	----

■ Other Papers

Development of a New Developmental Scale in Music Therapy for Children with Severe Motor and Intellectual Disabilities	Junko Murakami, Hayato Uchida, Yasuko Inoue, Hiroshi Ashida	59
The Relationship Between the Number of Lip and Tongue Movements and the Amount of Saliva Secretion During Singing	Itaru Kohya, Yumiko Kohya	69

■ Book Reviews		78
----------------------	--	----